JEHILE KIRKHUFF — MASTER OF AN OLD ART

The Lawton band, playing "Dzianzio," a Polish folk song, won out as the best band, the prize being $25.

Playing "Cece Macachran's Reel," Mr. Kirkhuff defeated 16 competitors in his class, which won him a prize of $10.

In the competition among the three winners, Mr. Kirkhuff tied for first place with Smokey Butler, a Texan.

Mr. Kirkhuff had played "The Country Waltz" and "Turkey in the Straw." He said he decided on playing "Turkey in the Straw" after he asked a somewhat inebriated native for advice on what Texans would like to hear.

Mr. Butler had played "Fisher's Horn Pipe" and "Fred Wilson's Clog."

In fiddling to break the tie, Mr. Butler played "Leather Britches" and Mr. Kirkhuff played and won with "Golden Slippers." The prize was $50.

"I was bedoozled," he said of winning it all.

Mr. Kirkhuff and the Edwards' were virtually broke when they decided that they
